Missed technique classes may be made up in a lower level, but all makeups must be cleared through Bridget ahead of time to ensure space is available in the class.

May I still participate in Ballet Boot Camp and not perform?

It is possible to take a portion of the workshop, and only participate in class. However, class size is limited, and those students wishing to perform shall be given priority registration. All students choosing to take the class-only portion of the workshop will be re-evaluated for placement and may be placed into a different level than originally assigned. This will depend upon the individual student and how much of the workshop they will attend. Dancers are encouraged to attend as many classes as possible and to begin as early as possible to ensure proper placement and progress. Level I dancers are encouraged to participate from the beginning of the workshop in order to keep up with the class material.

I really want to improve. May I take more than one level of the workshop?

Many students make stronger improvement when they study in more than one level. However, due to COVID-19 mitigation measures, we have limited space for additional workshop levels. If you wish to take classes in a second level, please submit your request with your registration. You may not be able to take all days that you request.

Students registered in a full Ballet Boot Camp with performance receive a 25% discount for additional classes. This discount is extended to additional family members participating in the workshop. The discount does not apply when a student is not participating in the performance.

Please note that additional workshop class opportunities may be made available as schedules permit at an additional charge. Dancers will be advised of these special classes as they are developed. Additional workshops will be separate from the Ballet Boot Camp and will not be required in order to perform on July 1.
